

And I'm giving to you their history and their people and how they were treated----all these things. It is so beautiful. Right here in the beginning is He and His Messenger. There is no group there. He begins in the beginning with His Messenger and He discusses with His Messenger the history of Messengers I just feel good all over when I have to repeat it because I do know I am the answer. And being the answer to that is one of the most glorious and the most blessed things to be the answer to that you could ever hope for---to be the right hand man of God in the judgement and He has conferred upon you HIS will! Whenever you learn it right it is really something.

Questioner: That makes us blessed/for that one God chose as His right hand man has been chosen from amongst us. He went to no other people.

Answer: That's right. He chose your brother. That makes Him (The Messenger) and you one of the family.

All: Yes sir----a happy day.

Answer: That's what the Holy Quran further says here that this one that Allah raises up, a Messenger from amongst them; It dignifies them and makes them a great Nation to have that honor that they could boast the Messenger is one of us. Not to think about opposing him and making mock of him. That's the last thing you should think of because you are dignified [by having such a one amongst you]. Think over it; you are honored because wherever you go when people learn that you are one of my followers even the devil himself will honor and respect you.

[This entire subject, "Say He Allah is One God", is indeed a most beautiful one and as the Messenger goes into it you will find it stirring and depthless. The Holy Apostle kind of "lights up" as he gets into this subject and gives it the meaning and beauty, spiritual and scientific interpretation that only he can and we will develop the subject in later table talks just as the Messenger has given it to us.]

At this point a Sister made a comment that follows which takes us into a different subject and highlights the wisdom of the Messenger in his broad and civilized points of view.

Sister: Dear Apostle. I was coming off the airplane and I had on my M.G.T. suit. The stewardess stopped me and she said, "Excuse me, are you a Nun?" I said, "No, I'm not." She said, "Well what are you?" I said, "I am Muslim" She looked at me and said Oh, what a beautiful garment you are wearing. I just love that; that is so beautiful. I said, "Thank You". and she just smiled and.....

Answer: That's right, you're suppose to say thank you. If you had not you would have acted ignorant. If somebody is trying to honor and respect you and you go along saying nothing----that's ignorant. Many brothers and Sisters go along being honored and they don't have sense enough to respect it. Please do not teach yours to be like that. They don't mean harm (the believer), they're just ignorant.

Sister: She asked the question so I told her. The last time I was here you told me if they ask you, tell the truth.
